Subject: : Beginner Forum
Topic: : First time out
First time out
Author: : steve2u42
Date: : 2010/7/13 19:56:43
URL:

Well today was my first time out with my fly fishing gear. Wow, so many different moods going on. I spent 3 hours out this evening for the first time.
The nice thing was when i made a mistake, i knew what i did wrong. I did catch 3 trout but they were only about 5 inches. maybe it was new fisherman and a new fish day. hahahaha. I am ready to go back out again tomorrow. this is so cool, i love it.
I just used what ever flies i picked out of the box. I know i did not use any dry flies but did mostly use wet flies. I do not know yet what flies to use. I lost 5 flies, some in trees and some im mot sure what happened to them. I really need to pay attention to my back cast. I can see the fly line during the front cast but not always watching or concentrating on back cast. Time will let me learn.I really wasn't out to catch fish, just to learn how to cast, like i said, i never did it before today.
I sure was glad not many people were around. I fished Yellow Breeches, near where 114 and 11/15 meet. If anyone lives near this area or fishes it, i sure would like to spend some time with ya. If you would be willing to help me out. If not, hopefully someday i will meet someone willing to help me out.
I keep in touch and let ya know what i am learning and how i am doing.