

---

Subject: : Fly Tying

Topic: : Outter Banks/ Flies

Re: Outter Banks/ Flies

Author: : sandfly

Date: : 2006/10/28 9:06:53

URL:

the clouser was originally tied sparse, think over the years it has grown in materials, I also see alot tied with the eyes close to the head when they should be tied back more...when you strip one in and pause it should not dive head first like a jig..just sort of angle down like a bait fish..materials and balance are a key in tying it.