Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum
Topic: : 2013 - Some Great Trout Fishing
Re: 2013 - Some Great Trout Fishing
Author: : afishinado
Date: : 2013/11/4 10:40:14
URL:

Quote:

> Fishidiot wrote:
> Thought I'd refresh this thread and see what folks think now that we're well into autumn.
>
> My general impression is that trout fishing continued to be pretty darn good if not excellent. Lots of PAFF guys have been out all summer and fall and seem to be reporting good sized wild brooks and browns. I'm not hearing as much about hatches but that's probably just due to the season. The small, wild trout streams on South Mountain, esp on the MD side, treated me pretty good last month.
> I'd reiterate my thoughts from the OP.....wild trout seem to be doing very well, generally speaking, across central PA. The CV limestoners are just packed with wild trout and, I think, the ideal weather conditions this year have produced some very good freestone wild trout fishing in my neck of the woods.
>
> I think, when it comes to trout fishing in PA, the "good ole days are now." And this has been a particularly good year.
> Further thoughts? If you commented on this thread in June, did that experience hold up the last few months?

Yeeep. Great season overall this year for wild trout as well as holdover stockies. Good flows early and cooler temps later in the summer. The fall has been very dry, but the water temps are good. As Tim Murphy often says, "tree tumbs up!"