

Subject: : Gear Talk

Topic: : Wader Repair

Re: Wader Repair

Author: : sandfly

Date: : 2006/10/29 7:27:10

URL:

For breathables, I use either aquasaal or thinned sportsman goop...I like goop because you can thin it and apply along all seams to make a better seal..like sealing a tent..also save a piece of an old wader for patches, as for neo. I super glue a tear together then goop the inside and out along the tear to make water proof. some people just use the ca but i found it breaks down in water after a while and could leak again...for pinholes ca by its self is fine since the hole is so small..