Since I'm sort of heading this up, I hope it's assumed I'm coming. I understand the issues with people driving far, or staying overnight for crappy weather, but it is what it is. I wouldn't mind setting a date and having a backup, but as long as it's not a monsoon and blown out, I'll probably be up there. Those from out of town can decide last minute to come, but there'll always be a place to fish around that time of year. Might not be ideal, but we'll get into some fish.

I have 2 trips I'm helping to organize through my church, so if we decide on this one I can make sure they don't overlap. (anyone can come with me on those when we get some dates too).

I hope as many people as possible can come up for some chrome, it's a blast!
