I was a little anal in the beginning with rinsing everything in warm, soapy water and by the end of the week was just rinsing it off. I'm going to give it all a good bath, cleaning and servicing now that I'm home.

Yes, saltwater fishing is very addicting because you just don't know what you're going to hook up with and everything has teeth! 🤩 I really wanted to hook into a speck to get a look at their chompers!

Overall, I think that having a highly productive day fly fishing in saltwater is rare, but it sure is fun trying!
