My God ! I just can't even begin to follow that logic. That would be like somebody playing a game of cards and suddenly getting the urge to blow away the Ace of Spades. Or some golfer wacking the ball and quickly reaching in his bag for his shotgun to try to shoot the ball out of mid-air. Fortunately though, cards and golf balls are not living creatures so I guess that wouldn't be very satisfying. Could you post where you plan to fish in the future so I'll know not to go there? Your urges scare me just a little. 😊
