I remember slipping and falling in a small pool and then not 5 minutes later hooking a 22 inch rainbow barely a rod length away from me. A truly wild fish would have been in the next county so it was hard to be too proud about it.

and if people would be allowed to keep it...it would have been it the next county in a frying pan 😊 thanks farmer dave and jack i think that might be the first time anyone ever said they agree with me without a pm =)
