Maybe I should immerse my self in some other aspect of the sport and give tying a break.

Maybe you could build me a rod? I've been thinking that a 3 or 4 pc 7' 4wt with a fenwick grip would be nice. I like a medium action.

A 9' 7wt would be good too. I might be doing some float trips for smallies in the future (if the legs don't come back well).

In all seriousness, this may be the time to get involved in a conservation project. DFTU has the need for instructors for a Trout in the Classroom project, folks to shovel rock at the Diversion Well and other needs. Check in with your local chapter or watershed group :)
