For those making the trek from the East, there's a few of us meeting at Cabela's @ 6am on Friday (10/30).

I have no idea of how many are meeting there, but this might provide a carpooling opportunity. A buddy of mine that works at the big C expressed serious interest in joining this adventure, and there may be several more as well.

At the very least, it provides an opportunity to "caravan" up there, and we'll get you to Folly's and more if you don't know the way. We could wind up with a convoy of muperes! Bring an FRS radio for on the road communication if you have one.

For those with GPS capability, you can get coordinates for LOTS of stream access points at this link ...

I used this technique last year, and it worked well...
