There is some private club water on beaver creek.

I did fish a short section of it however, just above it's junction with meadow run. That was 6-7 years ago however, and I don't know if that section is still open now. As for the fishing there, I didn't do very well on that section that day - there weren't many pools there - mostly shallow riffles. I was told by a guy who belongs to the club that they have jack dams on their stretch to create some nice holding water
