I've made it a point to do 95% of my nymphing indie free so far this year.

All I can say, is go ahead out there and putz around with it. You'll find yourself just setting the hook for seemingly no reason at all... but theres usually a flash and some weight at the other end. spooky stuff.

I do concentrate on handling line alot more without an indicator, Try to keep it semi tight to the best of your ability and be on the lookout for anything unnatural.
