

Subject: : Conservation

Topic: : Saucon Creek dam removal

Re: Saucon Creek dam removal

Author: : tomgamber

Date: : 2009/10/11 22:30:30

URL:

There was never a dam built to better a piece of water. Dams are built only to serve people. Never underestimate the power of water. If a dam is removed, eventually (and I am not qualified to determine how long eventually means) the stream/river whatever will recreate its channel and become wild again. Whether it affected fish populations is not a result of the dam being removed but was affected when the dam was built in the first place.