thanks for the imput guys!

Call the company and see if you can buy just the harness. The fly box is just held in place with velcro. So you could slap some on your 3CF box and use that with the fancy chest harness.

I think they are a little over the top for what you are getting. A good fishing shirt will hold your 3CF box, a small camera and have plenty of tabs and rings to hang your floatant and tippet etc on. The only thing the harness has that a fish shirt wouldn't is a place to hang your fly rod, which is a feature I wouldn't use anyway.
