

Subject: : Gear Talk

Topic: : Leaders?

Re: Leaders?

Author: : bam

Date: : 2009/10/28 10:59:59

URL:

Coils are the reason I rarely use hand-tied leaders. I can never get them straight. I typically use just a couple lengths of "fresh" leader material straight from the spool. Seems like once you take the material off the spool the first time, it gets worse and worse the more times you coil it up yourself.

Start at the tippet end and wrap over your fingers until there's a foot of butt end left. Wrap the stiff butt end around the leader a few times and there you have it.