Ry,

I wrap my leaders around four fingers - then use 2 small pieces of a bread wrapper tie to hold the coils in place.

One on each side of the loop.

Then I put them in a leader wallet pouch with a small index card marked with the size.

When I go to use one, I unwrap the coils - very carefully, so that it doesn't tangle. Then run a leader straightener over the sections to remove the coils

One of my buddies stores his leaders on used tippet spools. That way would definitely make things easier, but also take up a little more room in your vest
