i just finished this one and it was a good read. Basically, Paul interviewed a bunch of long-time guides from out west and each chapter is a different guide. Most of the details are in the context of the west but there are many truths that apply in any water.

i loved the premise. if nothing else, it helped me see which kinds of guides i'd like to go out on the water with and which i wouldn't should i ever make my pilgrimage out west.
