About knot strength: I enjoy tying blood knots but find my self resorting to surgeon knots in the field. Double surgeon is just such a quick an effective tie...

If I sit down, to build leaders, on my couch, I'll tie barrle knots..

I think that it's hard to determine which knot is stronger, the bloodknot or surgeon in this case. I think both are susceptible from the hands of the angler tying them..Like dryfly eluded to, "badknot" ..

edit:

Let me add some of my knots break too..
