

---

Subject: : Warm Water & Salt Water Fly-Fishing

Topic: : Calling salt "fin"attics

Re: Calling salt "fin"attics

Author: : sandfly

Date: : 2009/11/15 17:14:18

URL:

I love the striper he can be caught in salt or fresh. In the surf , bay, just about anywhere. Hook a 40lber and hang on they can run...Stripers almost disapeared in the late 70's. They have made a remarkable comeback..My favorite fish to catch at the beach now is the cow nosed ray. They take crab flies well and a large one (over 50) can spool you. They make fantastic runs, sometimes even going air born..