Is this a rhetorical question? There is perhaps not a better state than PA for what you are seeking. The reason for that is because extremely few people in this state are willing to venture off the main trail. I can think of places in each region of the state that you would be hard pressed to find another person.

The AT by Mont Alto State park is very nice.

The North Country trail by Kinzua

The Laurel Highlands trail.

I would guess that on most of the streams that you would encounter on these trails the fish you harvest would probably be to only ones this year taken.

Beware the Blank forest...after college graduation I wanted to spend week there "living off the land." Second night into it at about 2 in the morning there was a bunch of gun fire in VERY close proximity to my remote camp site. I hiked out in the dark as soon as my legs quit shaking.
