

Subject: : Fly Tying

Topic: : wanted: simple green drakes

Re: wanted: simple green drakes

Author: : JackM

Date: : 2007/5/31 10:32:11

URL:

I'm not sure I understand this simple pattern: are the hackle tips "tied in as a tail" the same ones that are palmered forward or are these 3 different feathers?

Is there a dubbing used for the body? If so, I presume it is cream-colored. If not, what then?

Sounds a bit like a #10 griffith's gnat. 🤔