A pair of Cabela's breathables should get you a few seasons if you take care of them, IE wash them and hang them in a cool dry place.

I spent like $115 on one of their better models with soft, stretchy shoulder straps and built in gravel guards and have no complaints at all. Though I've found that since I lost 100 lbs that all waders seem to feel more comfortably 😊

You can get one of the cheaper breathables from cabela's for 70 or 80 bucks and they will do you just fine IMO.
