

---

Subject: : Gear Talk

Topic: : New rod questions

New rod questions

Author: : volcanomil

Date: : 2007/6/5 7:43:26

URL:

Hello to all - first post - I have been lurking around reading for some time and went ahead and joined. Seems like a great place. I am looking into a new rod - and I am having trouble with so many choices. Price is an issue but overall useability is top concern. In my rod collection I have a G Loomis GL2 7'6" 4wt and an old Cortland GRP(?) 5'6" 8' - The Cortland needs to be retired - I am looking for a 8'6" or 9' 5wt for some of the larger streams I get too (Penns and Spring) the 7'6" is for Codorus/Clarks/Stony/E.Licking.

How does the Sage launch match up to the GL2 - should I move up to the GL3 or FLi series? I like the medium/fast action - are there any others I should look at?

thanks...