Tom- no. Thanks though.

I have been perusing the floridasportsman website. It has more local info- since that where I have been going to fish.

They have flyfishing topic- though it is not that busy. The archives have been mopre helpful.

That Ultimate Native seems to be very popular on the florida site.

No doubt you can access much more water with one of those- I would rather paddle then get out in wade I think.

Anyone- use the two handed retrieve? Put the rod under your arm and use two hands.
