"No matter where you go....there you are."

"I forgot more about _____ than you will ever learn." I have always questioned how this is somehow supposed to make me feel impressed with someones prowess.

When I go to a party with my wife....I sometimes for a laugh introduce her as my first wife. Hi john, I would like to introduce you to my first wife Beth. Then watch there eyes roll around as their brain chuggs to a stop, mouth drops and then closes.

Or for kicks I will ask my mother in law if I can talk with my "old lady" when my wife is over there.
