Egg Colored/ with a Salmon dot. (looks like a mini peach) they were working for me Saturday on lower elk. I hooked 5 in one hole on them.

Where in the world did you get the idea for that color combo??? 🤔

Sorry I missed all the fun. I'm headed up this weekend, or next, or maybe both. Looks like a good crew up there. Tailing a fish is an art, and Alby's "glove" looks like it did the trick. Looks like the true steelhead season started this past week... ice on the guides, snow on the ground, and less crouds. I need to bring one or two home for the smoker, so we'll see how the next few weeks pan out.
