

Subject: : Stream Reports

Topic: : Elk Creek, Erie County PA 12/5/2009

Re: Elk Creek, Erie County PA 12/5/2009

Author: : goodfortune

Date: : 2009/12/7 19:44:54

URL:

Hey guys; I made it home in one piece :).

It was a pleasure fishing with you all again. I learned that:

- Fishing in winter really isn't that bad...and this is from someone that has lived all but the last 2-1/2 years in warmer climates. Be sure to wear layers, with moisture-wicking materials, and you will be surprisingly comfortable as long as you keep moving.

- Bald Eagles are cool

- If you have to drive during winter storm conditions, BE CAREFUL OUT THERE!!! Don't think twice about stopping for awhile, or even finding a place for the night if you need to.

Quote:

albatross wrote: David, love the snow shot, maybe it'll make next year's calendar? I'll add my gratitude for getting us home safe through the snow. GoodFortune, chime in and let us know you made it home safe. We tried calling after the blizzard died down, but the call went straight to your VM. It was nice to fish with you again. This photo doesn't do him justice, but Bruno makes a great elf! I had a nice day out with good friends, and caught a few fish too! I enjoyed meeting PCray and JayL's gang. I'll be armed with fresh tippet for my next trip, hopefully over Christmas break.