I picked a few of these up at Cabela's... Some questions/comments:

For me, the end loop for tippet connection has come undone. This has happened to two of them. Now, I can't do a loop to loop connection, but must thread the tippet through 10 tiny loops in varying directions to tie a clinch knot. Has anyone seen this? Any recommendations? They appear to be the only brand of furled leaders that Cabela's carries so I'm going to have to go somewhere else if it's a known problem with them.

Anyone have any good brands? Where do I get them?

Thanks
