Just to pile on... Be sure to check the laws on any campfires you start. There are regs for State Game Lands and State Forests that you will need to be aware of. Ditto for camping.

I believe SGL's forbid both camping and fires. Forests, I think, permit them with permits, but you need to apply for the permits in advance. A butane camp stove may not have the same elan as a camp fire, but they are safer and legal. 😊
