

---

Subject: : Warm Water & Salt Water Fly-Fishing

Topic: : MI record muskie

Re: MI record muskie

Author: : a10loadtoad

Date: : 2009/12/29 16:52:54

URL:

They are much lighter and i personally like the pontoons because they sit higher in the water, you can take them through rougher, rocker water without worrying about wearing away the bottom like the plastic on a kayak. I use my kayak for pretty much all of my saltwater fishing and the pontoon for the freshwater. I worry that the metal on the pontoon would be more susceptible to rust in the salt. There really isn't any freshwater application(i have found) that where the kayak will work better than the pontoon.