Dear Joe,

Get the best of both worlds. Buy a big Plano lure box to store all of your dry flies in and get a couple of DeWitt boxes to fill for trips to the stream.

They are light in weight, have clear lids and compartments so things are easy to see, come in many styles and sizes, and don't cost an arm and a leg like some common flyboxes do. 😊

Flyfisher's Paradise carries a full selection of the DeWitt boxes if you can't find them closer to home.
