Elixir line really makes my Beulah 6/7 switch rock. The set up balances in the hand is not at all heavy in my hand and "guns" line like no other set up I have. I can single hand 110'+ casts and easily double hand that distance all day.

It should make my summer river fishing trips much more bearable. The head is a floater, my plan this summer is to use a dry fly with it.

I've been told it is a great nymph set up too.
