I can / will use what ever flies I get - here's something for thought, mabe we should gear the flies to a certain weight rod. Thats how I was thinking...originally I was thinking flies that a 5wt could handle to be versitile enough for everyone but based on David's inquiry, now I'm thinking at least a 7wt. I guess another thing to come to an agreement on is fresh or saltwater (in that I guess WW coud mean both). I fish it and tie it all - so I'm up for anything.
