

---

Subject: : Gear Talk

Topic: : Recommend a chest pack?

Re: Recommend a chest pack?

Author: : skiltonian

Date: : 2010/2/5 20:48:27

URL:

check these sales out:

http://www.mrfc.com/MadisonRiverShopp ... hResult.aspx?CategoryID=4

Page 4: Patagonia "Double Haul" Chest Pack

Page 9: William Joseph "Equinox" Pack (I just pick this one up on deals on the fly for half the price. seems pretty nice, good storage, tippet control system, 2 built-in zingers, misc. other pockets, and built in fly box on the front. Back can handle hydration bladder, lots of fly boxes, pack coat, or whatever. I haven't used it yet but tried it on, adjusted down and seems to fit well and comfortable. time will tell...)

Here's a simms dry bag (more of a hip pack, but waterproof. I have two of them a love em)

http://www.washingtonflyfishing.com/b ... 65649-SIMMS-dry-creek-bag