

Subject: : Warm Water & Salt Water Fly-Fishing

Topic: : Chain Pickerel on the fly

Re: Chain Pickerel on the fly

Author: : fderoos

Date: : 2010/2/6 10:05:31

URL:

I'll second the use of a popper to target these fish. I fish in a few lakes in the northern poconos for largemouth but when we get near reed and grass beds, sometimes we'll switch to red and white poppers with weed guards. Great to see the ripple of the grass and then the water from 10+ ft away as they charge the fly! The rush and strike are the best but the fight is pretty wimpy until they get really big. Have fun.