

---

Subject: : Warm Water & Salt Water Fly-Fishing

Topic: : Chain Pickerel on the fly

Re: Chain Pickerel on the fly

Author: : salvelinusfontinalis

Date: : 2010/2/9 10:59:02

URL:

I catch them in Wayne County of a private lake. I use heavy leaders and big white buggers. They slam them. I will say though that if you are fishing from a boat.....

expect them to hit the fly right before you make another cast. They will follow it right up to the boat and slam it out of no where! Scares the crap out of me everytime and i love it 😊

And i got great nerves. Its hard to make me jump but these fish do it.

I have caught them in the swattie and its tribs. One i caught was in a brookie stream. Them poor brookies 😞 kept that pickerl.