Spring Creek TU suggested to the PFBC that they buy lands along Spring Creek, when they came up for sale. The PFBC asked SCTU to pay for an appraisal of the land, which we did. The PFBC then bought the land, with some of their own funds and some from federal funds that come from taxes on fishing tackle.

Probably many of you have used some of the PFBC accesses from Route 550 upstream to the access point above the concrete bridge below the cottage stretch (below Fishermans Paradise). The story above is how they came to be public fishing spots. Those stretches were heavily posted previously.
