What we need in all states is the law Montana has on the books giving everyone access to the high water mark of all streams. You can't cross private property to get to the stream but if can access the stream from public property your have access. I'm sure that would discourage private clubs very quickly!

The other issue we face is the total disregard fisherman have for the waters they fish, and if they don't change I expect to see many more No Trespassing signs
