

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : The future of fly-fishing

Re: The future of fly-fishing

Author: : PaulG

Date: : 2010/2/26 7:13:01

URL:

Quote:

rrt wrote:

Jack-

I can't say I really like the aging process. There are not a whole lot of advantages of being 60 as opposed to 30 or 40 or so. And, I would certainly advise you not to wish you life away, looking forward to being old! My late father had a poem he found somewhere called "The Golden Years." It ended by saying "...the golden years can kiss my a__." I concur.

Rich

One of the best post I've ever read. Being very close to being 67, my golden years haven't been good ones.

Good advice, dont wish your life away!

My good friend Merle, has said many time....the hell with the golden years!

The golden years can surely kiss my ASS!

PaulG