
Subject: : Conservation

Topic: : Ignorance is bliss...

Re: Ignorance is bliss...

Author: : salvelinusfontinalis

Date: : 2007/7/24 18:42:53

URL:

yeah really and then read the comments below the video. he basically insults the person for trying to educate him by asking him to go the the WBTJV website. no matter what ur philosophy whats the harm in giving it a look. IMO, what a moron 🤡 also jack i agree that it isnt worth arguing over but....

Quote:

If we set a limit of 3 fish just because some people will take more than their "fair share" we deprive the more casual harvester the ability to bring home a family meal.

ok so if the limit is 5 and at 7 inches thats is 35 inches of trout of which probably 20 inches is able to be eaten. how many families of 3-4 people can eat a good meal on that.? brook trout arent really good for eating because u cant get enough meat out of them. just a thought.....of which making the creel limit higher isnt an answer. if we are going to raise hatchery trout for the harvesting angler to catch i have no problem with that. then why harvest wild fish out of wild only streams? just seems to me to be plain bad management.