

Subject: : Beginner Forum

Topic: : Nymphing weight ?

Re: Nymphing weight ?

Author: : Fishidiot

Date: : 2010/3/7 22:57:04

URL:

Good advice from the previous posters. Many FFers feel that, the smaller the fly, the closer the shot, esp since very small flies are often fished with much smaller split shot. Anyway, for a typical #14 nymph and a split shot of about BB size, I'll put the shot about 8" up from the fly. I might put it higher if I anticipate changing flies frequently as this will allow some extra length for cutting and re-tying flies.