In the summer it can get into the mid to upper 90's and 90% humidity during heat waves (like Houston in August). But in Albrightsville (the Poconos) it will be about 10 degrees cooler than the urban low-lying areas. And in shaded gorges along many fishing streams in the Poconos it can almost feel air conditioned. In the winter it can get into the teens during the day for extended periods during cold spells, but it is typically in the 30's. Again, colder (and much more snow) in the Poconos.
