

Subject: : Beginner Forum

Topic: : Patterns that are a Must Have

Re: Patterns that are a Must Have

Author: : k-bob

Date: : 2010/3/10 18:33:50

URL:

Depends on where you fish, and the type of fish you're after. For poconos brookies in small infertile streams, fish often charge after a meal, so I could probably get by on three flies - wulffs as the dry fly, small streamers for rare bigger holes, and pink san juan worms for the winter. (I like the white on the wulffs -- stands out in tan pocono stream water. )