

Subject: : Beginner Forum

Topic: : Little black stonefly

Re: Little black stonefly

Author: : osprey

Date: : 2010/3/13 6:10:14

URL:

sanctuary.....are you still there , or have you floated away overnight? I hope NOT. When we passed over the Swattie on the turnpike yesterday around 9:00 a.m. it looked pretty wild. There was talk that the upper stretches of the Swatara Creek was going to be designated Approved Trout Water , after checkin out the "summery" looks like this didn't happen. The stoneflies should proliferate in this environment though. I spotted my first one of the year near Shaffer run in Somerset county on 3-9-10 about 1:00 p.m. trout love 'em , i always wondered why , when they are in such abundance , the fish in the larger rivers and streams , don't bother with them? While you were at Swatara Creek did you see anything feeding on them? Besides seagulls?