As far as boats i use for fishing, i have a 15'6" canoe that i still use mainly when i take someone along with me to fish.

When i fish alone up till this year i used a kayak. But after it becoming uncomfortable and creating some unneeded pain when fishing for extend periods of time, i sold it.

I looked around and decide to replace it with a Venture Outdoors Pontoon Boat. It comes with hard shell pontoons, oars, built-in storage and the ability to change leg position to make it comfortable for long days fishing.

Here is a link to it
