I have fished lakes...Still water is a little different in my opinion...where the only thing I had to do different was go down from 5x to 7x to get takes. 8000feet gin clear water, no wind, spooky cutts, 5x and a 16 Adams...nothing...switch to 7x, fish every other cast. Maybe they land softer on 7x? Who knows but hey go balls out right up to the fly with 5x and turn off at the last second. 7x they take.

Normally Anything bigger than a 12 I go 4x but 5x for anything 14 and smaller. I step up one size in each case if I am nymphing and sometimes 2 steps for weighted streamers. I adjust from there.
