Flouro vs Mono side of tippet

I have been using flouro more.

Nymph more but I also like the way that flouro knots can be tighten without creating the curly-q's.

I know- wet the line. But still dont get it to work well.

Would like to use mono more since it is cheaper and the limpness can help with a dry flies drift. (guess flouro could sink too)

Would like to observe some fly anglers tie some mono knots for their techniques.

TGIF, work day dudes!
