Do not confuse limits given for where stocking occurs with the lower and upper boundaries of the ATW. If the entire stream is ATW, it doesn't matter if they only stock up to the bridge (for instance), it is still closed from March 1 until opening day.

As an example, below is what appears in the stocking lists for Indian Creek, Westmoreland County. As you can see, they stock in two sections. One section is the DHALO, the other is a section immediately downstream of the DHALO. Above the DHALO and below Champion Creek, the stream is still an ATW from County line to its mouth with the Youghiogheny River, even though stocking does not occur in those areas not listed:
