I hate the 10 to 2 thing. I'm not sure I really go past 12, maybe 12:30. 2 is too far, IMO.

Yeah, feel is the best way to get started. When you get to faster action rods, that feel is considerably less, and you just have to learn the timing of the rod. That's why it's best to start with a medium or slow action rod, you can feel that rod load and it's intuitive.
