I don't think about it much either, generally 4x or 5x, unless its midges or something, then I'll go to 6x.

The only time I do is if I'm using a true dropper rig. The dropper has to be on fairly stiff tippet, and fairly short, or else it'll just wrap around the leader. 2x or 3x often in those cases, knotted to 5x for the point fly.
